Dear Parents,

During Catholic Schools Week, we celebrate your commitment to Catholic education. This week's PSO sponsored activities raises the awareness of our students as to the difference Catholic education makes in our global society. We are grateful for the sacrifices you, as parents, make to provide a St. Joan of Arc education for your children.

As you know, we depend greatly on the success of our Annual Appeal to meet our growing educational costs. If you have already made your gift to our Annual Appeal, we are very grateful. If you have not yet done so, please consider making your gift during this very special week. For your convenience, we have provided secure online giving opportunities via our school web site...every gift, every size makes a difference!

Thank you for entrusting your children to our care and for your continued commitment to our mission.

Marianne Bero
Director of Development
